Highest Quality Glass

The laminated glass used in these constructions is 100 times stiffer and 5 times stronger than traditional laminated glass sets. Thanks to the increased level of safety, this glass is widely used in modern construction technology.

The parameters of the glass make it possible to obtain products tailored to specific functions, e.g. protection against weather phenomena such as hurricane, protection against attack, protection against noise, bullet resistance, protection against the sun.

The glass also meets the requirements of the Sea Turtle Protection Ordinances in Florida.
